NATIONAL AIR FOR CHINA.

The last expiring act of the board of rites was to recommend a change in official music, which the emperor approved by decree of July 15. It appears that the Marquis Tseng evolved a national air when in London as minister thirty years ago, but it has never been officially notified to the army and navy. The western nations, and even Japan, all know each other's airs, which they strike up at banquets and solemn occasions; the make-shift air now semi-officially used by China is far from being suited to her dignity. It is not proposed to abandon entirely the old Chinese principles of music, but the envoys abroad have been directed to send all foreign national airs to the musical department of the board of rites, when competent trained ears will judge how best to combine Chinese notions with foreign and evolve something really good.

UNDER BIG STEAM ROLLER

The Canton Pike Overhead Bridge Is Crushed Down Tuesday.

ENGINEER ESCAPED INJURY

Was a Wooden Temporary Structure That Was Weakened by Rotting Timbers.

One of the county's heavy road rollers went through the overhead bridge at the crossing of the Canton pike and T. C. Railroad Tuesday morning. The bridge was the temporary structure erected several years ago of wooden timbers and had been growing weaker for some time.

The roller had been at work east of the bridge and was being moved across to the west side. When about two-thirds over the timbers cracked and he engineer W. M. Conyers shut off the steam and stopped, but the bridge continued to give way under the 16-ton weight and the engineer and fireman both got off after starting the roller again, but the structure gave way before the machine reached firm ground.

It was a Geiser machine worth about $1000 and in falling it was badly wrecked, though it lodged on the high ground under the bridge some distance above the railroad track. The front roller is twisted, the smoke stack torn off and the rear part demolished. The repairs will be costly. Trains have not been interfered with, but the bridge is out of commission and the people are passing around it through the Phelps field.

Judge Knight and County Attorney Duffy with other county officers went at once to the scene and the damage will be repaired as soon as possible.

Colder Weather Coming.

The next general disturbance to cross the country will appear in the Northwest Tuesday or Wednesday, advance eastward over the Middle West Wednesday night or Thursday and the Eastern states about Friday. This will be preceded by rising temperatures attended by local areas of precipitation, and be followed by a change to considerably colder weather.

AMUSEMENTS

"Sis Perkins" will make a visit to Holland's Opera House, Hopkinsville, on Monday, Oct. 30. This occasion should be the theatrical event of the season, for no better play of its class has ever been seen in the local play house. The story is of intense interest, the dialogue is brilliant and compels uproarious laughter and hearty applause. A love story "as sweet as apple blossoms" forms the theme, and beautiful scenery, attractive costuming and realistic lighting effects combine to make a performance complete in every detail.

The Chinese rebellion is still spreading and victory after victory is being reported, as the rebels meet feeble opposition.
